ANARCHY'S HIDEOUS HEAD IS LIFTED UP IN ALFONSO'S REALM

ATTEMPTS LIFE OF KING OF SPAIN

Assassin Fires Three Shots at the Young Monarch.

BULLETS GO WIDE OF THE MARK

Alfonso's Skill In Horsemanship and Presence of Mind Save His Life, His Mount Receiving the Ball in the Chest—Police Rush Assassin to Cover to Protect Him From Fury of the Mob.

Madrid, April 14.—A well-dressed man of 25 fired three shots at King Alfonso as he was riding through the streets here, but none of the bullets struck the monarch. One of the bullets struck his horse in the chest.

The king was returning to the palace from a review of recruits. He was riding slowly through the streets with a large staff and was near the Bank of Spain on Alcala street when a young man rushed at the monarch's horse and clutched the bridle with his left hand. Then he put his right hand in his pocket and drew a revolver.

King Alfonso realized instantly that the man was an assassin and his skill in horsemanship and his presence of mind probably saved his life. He made the horse rear up just at the moment the assassin fired the shot, but the king was already safe behind the horse, which got the bullet in the chest. At the same moment policeman threw himself upon the assassin and threw him to the ground and held him there, but was unable to grip his arms before he had fired two other shots. They were random shots, as it was impossible for him to take aim, and they did not hit anybody. Soldiers pushed back the crowd, a dozen persons being badly hurt in the crush.

After acknowledging the cheers of the people by renewed salutes, King Alfonso dismounted in the most unconcerned manner. He met the anxious members of his staff by saying, "Gentlemen, it is nothing." Then he remounted and continued on the way to the palace.

The would-be assassin, who gave the name of Rafael Sanchez Alegre and said he was a Catalonian, had been hustled by the police into the nearest house, as this was the only way to save his life from the fury of the crowd. Three other persons were arrested in connection with the shooting.

One was a well-dressed Frenchman, who was in Alegre's company when the latter dashed at the king's horse. The Frenchman bolted, but was chased and captured by the police. No weapon was found on him and he declared he had nothing to do with the outrage. He said he was simply a casual acquaintance of Alegre's. The other two persons arrested were Spaniards, a man and a woman.

The would-be assassin is a well-groomed man. He has a pleasant face which suggests that he is anything but a criminal. He says he is a carpenter, but looks more like a clerk. He said he did not know what prompted him to fire at the king. Later Alegre said he wanted to avenge the execution of Professor Farrar.

CLINGS TO ENGINE; HOLDS YOUNG MAN

Girl's Thrilling Experience After Being Hit By a Train.

Mansfield, O., April 14.—Clinging to the pilot of the engine with one hand while she held the unconscious form of her companion with the other, Miss Mary Farber, a small 17-year-old girl, rode more than two miles from the West Park avenue crossing, where their horse and buggy was struck by a Baltimore & Ohio passenger train, to the Mansfield passenger station. Her screams there brought assistance.

None of the train crew knew that anything had been struck until the station was reached. Miss Farber escaped with only a few bruises. Her companion, Fred Lutz, 18, is suffering with two fractures of the skull and probably will die. Miss Farber and her friend were returning to their homes in Lexington after attending a dance at Ontario.

Young Millionaire Fatally Hurt

Pittsburg, Pa., April 14.—W. A. Callery, 20, son of James D. Callery, president of the Pittsburg Railways company, is in the Pittsburg hospital, probably fatally injured, following a smashup on the Lincoln boulevard. Young Callery was returning from the Golf club in a racing car. From the appearance of a small unoccupied dwelling near Silver Lake, through which the machine went, Callery must have been driving not less than a mile a minute.

GENERAL CHOOSES LIFE TO PAGE IN HISTORY

STANDS OFF REBEL FORCE TO THE LAST

MEXICAN GENERAL FINALLY FLEES TO THE AMERICAN SIDE.

Naco, Ariz., April 14.—General Pedro Ojeda of the Mexican federal army fled to the American side, choosing life and its emoluments to a place in history as a Mexican general who died rather than surrender or quit. However, the Mexican general put up the fight of his life. For a month Naco has been surrounded by rebels and the old general, with never more than 400 soldiers, has several times whipped the rebels so badly that it took them several days each time to recover. This time he fought until his last shot was exhausted.

General Ojeda gave himself up to Captain H. A. Seifert, Ninth United States cavalry.

When the battle opened, General Ojeda had less than 300 men and the rebels numbered fully 1,000. The rebels began setting fire to buildings. When the customs house was burned General Ojeda, with his remaining 15 men, walked over the line into Arizona.

It is estimated that Ojeda had over 100 killed. The rebel loss is supposed to have been very heavy, since the fighting was at such close quarters. His screams there brought assistance.

None of the train crew knew that anything had been struck until the station was reached. Miss Farber escaped with only a few bruises. Her companion, Fred Lutz, 18, is suffering with two fractures of the skull and probably will die. Mrs. Pankhurst as She Appears In Her Prison Cell In England

THIS shows Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst in prison garb in her cell. Of course you have read all about the leader of the English suffragettes, how she was recently sentenced to three years for instigating the blowing up of Lloyd-George's new summer home and how she started a hunger strike in her endeavor to gain her liberty. You have formed your own opinions as to whether she deserved all she got or not. To the suffragettes and to many of her American suffragist admirers she is a heroine. To nonsympathizers she is a "wild woman" who was justly entitled to her punishment.

Rome, April 14.—The pope is still critically ill, but there is no indication that the end is imminent. The pontiff's eldest sister went to the vatican and was at her brother's bedside an hour later when Professor Marchiafava and Dr. Amici visited him.

LIGHTNING PLAYS A PECULIAR PRANK

Mobile, Ala., April 14.—At Rayne, Miss., lightning played a peculiar prank when it struck Pierre Lesse, a farmer driving along a road with a load of cotton seed, painfully but not seriously injuring him. The lightning tore his hat, clothing and shoes to shreds, melting the eyelids out of his shoes and tearing the soles off. His trousers were torn as though slashed with a knife again and again. His two horses were both instantly killed. The cotton seed was not set on fire.

SOLONS RESUME CAUCUS ON THE TARIFF

SENATORS SEEK MANY CHANGES

Finance Committee Not Satisfied With Underwood Bill.

SAY IT'S NOT REVENUE RAISER

Indications of Growing Discontent Among Southern Senators Becoming More Marked Daily—Democrats of House Resume Consideration of the Tariff in Caucus—Agricultural Schedule Comes Up For Dissection.

Washington, April 14.—Democrats of the house resumed consideration of the Underwood tariff in caucus today. In view of the defeat of those who wanted sugar on the free list at once instead of the sliding reduction in the rate, with free sugar at the end of three years, it is not likely there will be any further trouble in the caucus.

The agricultural schedule is up for debate today. This embraces what is known as the "market basket," which provides many free products and others on which the rates are materially cut. Mr. Underwood is convinced that it will be adopted in precisely the form in which it was reported.

Democratic members of the senate finance committee also resumed their conferences today. Most of the day was devoted to consideration of items in the Underwood bill. It is manifest that many amendments will be made to the bill by the senate Democrats. The chairman, Senator Simmons, believes there will have to be readjustment of many items and in some instances duties will have to be increased for revenue purposes.

Senator Johnson of Maine offered amendments changing duties on some of Maine's products. Senator Stone of Missouri is not entirely satisfied with the lead schedule, while Senator Shively of Indiana will advocate several changes in the house bill rates, possibly in regard to wheat and flour.

It was learned that Senator LaFollette has taken up the cudgel for the millers. He believes that taxed wheat and free flour is an incongruity. He believes the senate finance committee should give public hearings. He is opposed to the closed caucus, such as that now being held by the Democrats of the house to perfect a tariff bill.

Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi stands out in the open as an insurgent against the Underwood bill. He declares it is not a revenue measure as the duties have been laid, and objects to free sugar and several other items in the bill. The indication of a growing revolt among southern senators becomes more marked daily.

Senator Johnston of Alabama objects to free lumber and to the low duties on steel products. Senator Walsh of Montana has announced to his constituents that he will not vote for free wool or free sugar.

Retired Farmer Hangs Himself. West Jefferson, O., April 14.—John Johnson, 55, well-to-do retired farmer, committed suicide by hanging himself. No motive has been assigned. Johnson arose as usual and after eating breakfast left the house, his wife thinking he had gone down town. Later, a maid employed by the family found his lifeless body hanging in an outbuilding. The coroner is investigating. Johnson had no children.

Guy Smith, 21, of Akron, O., was drowned at Napoleon, O. He fell from a freight train into a creek.

UNUSUALLY STRONG LECTURE COURSE FOR NEXT SEASON CHOSEN

Committee of Washington Lecture Course Acts Early and Secures the Best Obtainable for Next Winter--Seven Numbers and Each One Full of Talent Announced, With Added Attraction Promised Later.

The Washington Lecture Course committee has completed arrangements for the lecture course for the season of 1913-14, in advance of their usual custom, in order to secure high class artists whose dates are always booked at the opening of the season.

The committee is positively elated over the success they have had in booking foremost attractions for next winter. After carefully feeling the public pulse it was the unanimous opinion that Washington C. H. is desirous of quality, rather than quantity and from this view point the members proceeded to make their selection. With absolute disregard of expense the committee has listed the finest attractions of the Coit Lyceum Bureau for a course of seven numbers.

For the same money they could have given twenty entertainments, but the aim has been to give to the Washington public entertainments and entertainers which, measured by the highest standards, will even exceed expectations. The three musical numbers of the course alone come at $800 and the lecturers are the highest priced connected with any bureau.

The course has been completed as follows:

The Collegiate quartet, Edwin Wig-gam, Benjamin Chapin, Ralph Parlette, George R. Stuart, Boston Musical Co. and The Scotney company.

The Scotney company, which will probably open the course in October, when secured as a single attraction sells at $700. The leading soloist, Evelyn Scotney, is a grand opera singer and goes in the spring to Covent Garden, London, for a ten weeks' engagement. The opportunity to hear an aggregation of such singers as compose the Scotney Co., is rarely found outside of the large cities.

The Boston Musical Co. is heralded as a concert troupe of eight talented soloists, who excel in both solo, quartet and double quartet work.

The return of the Collegiate quartet, heard in Grace church during the past season, was positively demanded by every one who enjoyed that quartet of brilliant opera singers. The people's vote as taken at the closing lecture was so large for both the Collegiate quartet and Ralph Parlette, the popular lecturer, that the committee deemed it wise to bring them back for the coming season.

A unique attraction will be found in Benjamin Chapin, whose fame as an impersonator of Lincoln is widely spread and who filled a year's engagement with the Keith circuit.

Edwin Wig-gam is a lecturer who follows the style of DeMotte and is said to be his equal.

A lecturer with the special charm of the sunny South is George R. Stuart and he is one of the best known men on the lecture platform.

Satisfied as the committee feels with its listed attractions it is planning a further innovation to be announced later, and the entertainment loving public of Washington, may well look forward to the season of 1913-14 as one of unusual interest and pleasure.

The recently organized committee continues its last year's chairman, Mr. D. L. Thompson, and secretary and treasurer, Mr. J. Earl McLean, Mr. Ray Maynard with the addition of two new members, Messrs. Fred M. Mark and R. E. Kelley.

Local Man Loses $6,000

M. I. Sachs, proprietor of the Ideal store in this city, who also owns like stores in other cities, lost his entire stock of goods at his West Third street store in Dayton, and the damage is estimated by Mr. Sachs at not less than $6,000, as no insurance can be recovered.

Mr. Sachs and his wife were in the building during the flood, and when the water commenced pouring into the store it soon forced them to seek shelter in an upper room, where they remained until rescued by the life-savers. Water eleven feet deep stood in the buildings in the neighborhood of his store.

For two weeks he has been engaged in trying to clean up the store, but it will still require some time. Very little salvage will be recovered.

Many buildings on West Third street were destroyed, some by fire and others by water undermining them and causing them to collapse. Mr. Sachs praises the great work of the Y. M. C. A. in the life-saving work on West Third street.

A store in Gallipolis, owned by Mr. Sachs, was slightly damaged.

Claim Pennsy Is After Grasshopper

Free Lecture Tuesday Night

Over at Bowersville there is a strong rumor afloat that the Pennsylvania railroad is after the Grasshopper division of the D. T. & I. railroad with a view of extending it at both ends and making a good road out of the present dilapidated division.

It is a well known fact that the division is a constant money loser to the D. T. & I. as it is now operated, the annual loss reaching $5,000 and more, and that the D. T. & I. is anxious to close up a deal whereby the division can be leased until such a time as authority to sell is obtained, which is somewhat indefinite.

At the present time a sale of the division is regarded as almost impossible, owing to the road being in the hands of a receiver, and incumbered with great debt.

Joke Was On The Governor

According to reports from Circleville, Governor Cox was the victim of a good joke at that point Friday evening.

The train bearing the Governor had just pulled in and a large crowd of students had assembled at the station awaiting the arrival of the Washington debating party. Both trains were due at about the same time, and when Governor Cox saw the large crowd it is said he took it for granted they had assembled to greet him, and he started a speech.

Not being recognized by the crowd he was interrupted, but when some one did recognize him a shout went up for the governor, and he was roundly applauded when his short speech was finished.

Enter Pleas Of Not Guilty

Saturday afternoon four more of those indicted by the Grand Jury, were taken before Judge Carpenter of the Common Pleas court to plead to the indictments against them. All four of the men entered pleas of not guilty, and will stand trial.

The quartette and the charges against them are: William A. Roberts, for burglary and larceny; Eugene McBride and Ed Stuiles, forgery and Albert Douglas, assault with criminal intent. The latter's bond was fixed at $400, which, it was announced, would probably be raised.

The quartet was remanded back to jail, and will not be tried for some little time, as the petit jury will not meet until the 19th of May.

Progressives

Will Help

Columbus, Ohio, April 14th.—All legislation that will be introduced in Ohio which pertains to helping the thousands of unfortunates that were in any way affected by the great floods throughout the state is to be given the support of the Progressive members. Chairman Walter F. Brown who spent two days at the state headquarters of the committee this week, declared that Progressives would lend their support to Governor Cox in any way possible in any effort that he may make to alleviate the suffering and actual want of those in the flood zone. Party politics are not to be given any consideration, but the cause of human welfare, and the protection of those who for the time are deprived of their homes and household goods must come first, and whoever has the best and quickest method to accomplish these ends will find the members of the Progressive party rallying to his support.

Must Count All Parcel Packages

Postmaster Culhan has received instructions from the postoffice department at Washington, to have all parcel post packages counted, beginning Monday of this week and continuing until Saturday night.

All offices are making the count, and it will give the department an accurate information as to the extent of the parcel post business, and plans for handling it can be devised with some degree of accuracy.

Since the first count was made the business has increased wonderfully, and in a great many instances additional equipment is necessary to handle the increased volume of the business.

Last Assignment

Following is the last assignment of cases made for hearing before Judge Carpenter:

Wednesday, April 16.—Tacy D. Flood et al vs. O. W. Ervin, et al.

Thursday, April 17.—Marion Dunlap vs. B. & O. S. W. R. R. Co.

Monday, April 21.—Melissa Allen vs. Lila Kirkpatrick.

*You Must Wear Clothes—
Let's Talk the Matter Over*

Of course, we could go into details and review for you all of the technical points of our clothing. We could talk to you of single breasted coats, double breasted coats, two and three button sacks, long soft roll lapels, high cut vests, close-fitting, comfortable English models, etc., etc.

We could list a long line of fabrics. Tell you of woolens spun on the best looms and by the sturdiest weavers of Germany, France, England, Scotland and our own country.

But you, as a busy man, have no time for all this. What you want is clothes; dependable clothes and so we say, step in today. Slip into a suit or an overcoat from

TWO WELL KNOWN SPEAKERS ADDRESS LARGE AUDIENCES

Wayne B. Wheeler and Rev. Dr. Montgomery Make Forceful Addresses at Grace Church Yesterday---Resolutions Are Adopted at Union Mass Meeting Last Night.

Two large audiences heard Wayne B. Wheeler, head of the Anti-Saloon League of Ohio, who spoke at Grace M. E. Church Sunday morning and also in the afternoon, on the work of the Anti-Saloon League in Ohio, what it has accomplished, is now accomplishing, and what it hopes to accomplish in the future. Both addresses were very interesting and delivered in the speaker's usual forceful manner.

He occupied the pulpit during the regular preaching hour in the morning, and at the close of his address, a liberal collection was offered to assist in the furtherance of the Anti-Saloon work.

In the afternoon he reviewed the methods and aims of the league, and made a strong impression upon the audience. After referring to the recent passage of the Hale-Kenyon bill, he declared the time is not far distant when prohibition amendments will be incorporated in the Constitution of the United States.

From Mr. Wheeler's remarks it was gleaned that an early vote on statewide prohibition in Ohio may be called for.

At the union meeting a large number of the various churches attended and heard the forceful address of Rev. Dr. Montgomery, president of Muskingum college, who spoke on Sabbath Observance, building his sermon around the commandment, "Remember the Sabbath Day to Keep it Holy."

Dr. Montgomery made forceful argument on why there should be no compromise on desecration of the Sabbath, and made a strong plea for strict observance of Sunday, causing some of his hearers to view the question of Sabbath observance in a somewhat different light than they had previously done.

Rev. Ross presided at the meeting. Rev. West read the scripture lesson, and Rev. Hostetler submitted the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted by a rising vote of the audience:

RESOLUTIONS.

"Believing that the peace, order and well-being of our city depend in large part upon a rightful regard for the Sabbath day, we hereby record the following resolutions:

"I. As a Christian community, committed to the ideals of the Christian religion, and anxious to safeguard the moral and religious welfare of all our people, we are jealous for the good name of our city as a law-abiding and Sabbath keeping community.

"II. We view with regret and alarm the agitation for commercializing the Lord's day by means of public sports carried on for the making of money, or at which admission fees are charged and received. It is the universal experience of our cities that sports so carried on tend to destroy reverence for the Sabbath day, besides promoting disorder and lawlessness.

"III. In behalf of the Christian sentiment of the city we hereby respectfully petition the City Council to pass an ordinance prohibiting the playing of baseball or of any other athletic game on Sunday, for which money or other reward is demanded or received, as provided and authorized by Section 3657 of the General Code of Ohio."

Yes: We Have, Too

This long drawn out spell of wet and gloomy days, with the penetrating wind from the east or northeast is causing folks, impatient to get their spring work done, to think and remark, frequently too, that they never saw such weather. They never saw so much bad weather in the spring.

But these good folks forget from one year to another. In the multiplicity of duties which call from the out-of-doors—at the coming of that time of year when once in a number of years warm weather has been known to drive the chill away and the glorious spring sun to roll away the curtain of clouds which has hidden from us the wonders of the bright life-giving sky so long, people allow their hopes to run too high. They remember only the time when spring did come early, when it warmed up and stayed warm. With that optimism which makes the affairs of man go forward with the energy and the glorious forgetfulness of youth, they forget the disappointments and the bad spells of weather of former years.

With the tulip, the hyacinth and the lilac they start too soon, they expect too much of nature and are frequently disappointed for allowing their hopes to be raised too high.

The housed-up human beings, the early flowers and the migratory birds are alike almost every year, impatient because spring warmth and sunshine are so long coming.

But once here in the glory of it all the gloomy past is soon forgotten and in the riotous plenty of the seed time and harvest the disappointments are effaced from memory.

The almost incessant rainfall and the heavy gray clouds which have surrounded us during the past three weeks have been discouraging, but other springs in other years have been just as backward, and real spring weather will come.

Brotherhood

WHY ORGANIZE FOR WAR WHEN WE ARE INTERNATIONALLY EDUCATING FOR PEACE? WHY REORGANIZE THE AMERICAN ARMY AND PUT IT IN FIGHTING TRIM? THE PAPERS ARE FULL OF IT. WHY LET THE BIG WAR BUDGET EAT US UP WHEN WE ARE EDUCATING AT HOME AND ABROAD FOR PEACE, AND IF WE ARE SINCERE ALL WE NEED IS A POLICE ARMY. WHY SHOULD A HANDFUL OF SUPERANNUTED PATRIOTS OF PAST WARS KEEP THE POT BOILING FOR ARMY AND NAVY WHEN THE WHOLE WORLD WILL SOON TURN ITSELF OVER ON THE SUBJECT?

Why keep up this last form of physical slavery—ENSLAVING THE BODY IN SERVICE TO THE STATE—a slavery with the death peril in it? When will the state settle its differences as it forces the individual to do by justice?

As long as gunmakers can lobby our legislatures there will be the war scare. As long as there are profits to divide there will be the howl about the mysterious army for which we are to be prepared, but the real reason for the story is in THE POCKET AND THE ITCHING PALM.

There are those who never will listen to the chorus which is CRYING A HALT from every part of the world—from the mass above, which wishes peace and the fruits of peace in civilization, and from the mass below, which is being crushed by the ever increasing burden. Yes; an EVER EXPANDING CHORUS IS SWELLING FOR PEACE in Europe as well as in America, and today in Europe a cry of famine is being added to that chorus.

Yet the American press calmly prints the officially prepared palaver about putting the army on a fighting basis. But by the free editorial comment we see that the American papers are far from being subsidized by the war department, as are the papers of Europe, even to the simplest fashion journals, for the women, too, must be imbued with war patriotism, so they will not object to HARVESTING FOOD FOR BULLETS.

Today the pacific sentiment is simply seething in Europe. Everybody is sick of this meaningless war and expressing strong arguments against the war system. Also in America the masses are filled with international sympathy.

Poetry For Today

WOODROW WILSON, HUMAN BEIN'.

He ain't no marble statue that is hard and stiff and cold,
He ain't no superman nor no Colossus;
He ain't no new Apollo with a chariot of gold
Who come to give us sunshine or to boss us;
He don't make no pretensions that he needn't eat or drink,
He has a nose to smell and eyes for seein';
He ain't no proud archangel and he ain't no missin' link,
For he's told us that he's just a human bein'.

He has to do his breathin' just the same as you and I,

He puts on trousers and a shirt and collar;

He eats when he gets hungry and he drinks when he is dry,

If he sat down on a tack I guess he'd holler;

He ain't no royal creature that gets drowsy on a throne,

He likes to look at things that are worth seein';

He sharpens up his razor and he shaves himself alone,
And he eats like any other human bein'.

He ain't no highfalutin' decorated figurehead

That folks can talk to only when they're kneelin':

At night he takes his clo's off and like us, he sleeps in bed,

And he laughs sometimes and has the sense of feelin';

I s'pose he sometimes sneezes and must use his teeth to chew,

And when his vittles get to disagreein'

I guess he has his gloomy thoughts, the same as me and you,

For he's told us that he's just a human bein'.

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS

(By John E. M. Kerr.)

Much of the old newspaper goes back to the paper mills and is used in making new paper and great quantities go to China, where the natives use them in papering their rooms. Our newspaper is of stouter texture than the ordinary Chinese paper. The poorer class cannot afford sufficient clothing to protect themselves in cold weather, cut out garments from the paper and wear them next to the skin, and the paper proves an excellent substance for preserving the warmth of the body.

An inheritance tax of 50 per cent. on fortunes over $15,000,000 is proposed in a bill introduced in the Senate by Senator Jones, of Washington. Where the bequest is to members of the immediate family, there is provided an exemption of $25,000 and a reduced tax rate. On estates of less than $5000, 1 per cent.; from $5000 to $50,000, 2 per cent. until the government takes half over $15,000,000. No constitutional amendment would be necessary to impose an inheritance tax.

The Easter vacation of Miami university began April 10, having been postponed on account of the difficulty the students would find in reaching their homes from Oxford before that date. The west side of Hamilton towards Oxford, was the section where the flood did its greatest damage, washing bridges away so that the college and village was completely isolated, without phone or telephone service. Miami university sent twenty students to Hamilton each day for many days for guard work.

Mrs. Edward Napier, one of the most successful women farmers in the south, not only owns, but actively manages about 7000 acres of Georgia land. Her place is known as Black Lake plantation and is conducted on practical principles. Mrs. Napier, though devoting considerable land to diversified crops, is a great believer in grain and stock feeding.

For the past five years the United States Rubber Company has invested money at the rate of $1,200,000 per annum in Celon, India, rubber plantations. Within another 18 months the output of these plantations will be sufficient to supply 50 per cent. of the "Trusts" crude rubber requirements and at a cost of not over 50c per pound laid down in New York. The annual savings will pay a good dividend on the company's $36,000,000 common stock.

The quantity of briquetted fuel manufactured in the United States in 1912 was 220,000 tons at 19 plants valued at $950,000. Of these plants seven used anthracite culm, nine used bituminous slack, one used anthracite and bituminous mixed, one used heat and one used residue from gas manufactured from oil. The cost of briquetting is $1 to $1.25 per ton and it sells for as much as stove or egg coal. The uniform size of the briquette makes them highly desirable as a domestic fuel; besides, if properly made they are completely consumed and do not produce cinders.

The California fruit and nut crop last year, according to the department of Commerce and Labor, was: Almonds, 3000 tons; walnuts 9250 tons; cured fruits, apples 3500 tons, apricots 18,500 tons, figs 5000 tons, peaches 27,000 tons, prunes 97,000 tons, raisins 85,000 tons, canned fruit and vegetables, in cases, apples 65,000, apricots 859,000, blackberries 79,000, cherries 199,000, grapes 71,000, loganberries 73,000, nectarines 23,000, pears 619,000, peaches 2,091,000, plums 165,000, raspberries 3700, strawberries 13,000, asparagus 687,000, beans 66,000, peas 185,000, tomatoes 1,515,000, other vegetables 64,000.

Relief for Bowel Trouble

Here is a laxative—not a purgative—but a pleasant, easy-to-take tablet that tastes just like candy, that children like, that is ideal for invalids and aged persons. We guarantee it not to cost you a penny if it does not satisfy you. Don't doubt or hesitate—make us prove it.

Consult Your Doctor

We believe your doctor will tell you that about 95 per cent of all human ills are indirectly caused by unclean and constipated bowels. You know the first question the doctor asks when you consult him is, "Are your bowels regular?"

When your bowels are not naturally exercised such as they would be if you took a good brisk walk of six or seven miles a day out in the open, they require artificial exercise and a corrective tonic that will soothe and strengthen while regulating the bowels to natural action.

Free If It Fails

We have so much faith in Rexall Orderlies as the safest, most dependable, easiest-to-take, quietest acting and most thoroughly good remedy for bowel trouble, that we offer them with our positive guarantee that if they do not satisfy for any reason whatever, we will hand back the money you paid for them.

Don't doubt or hesitate. Make us prove our claims. Come and get a box of Rexall Orderlies today.

CAUTION: Please bear in mind that Rexall Orderlies are not sold by all druggists. You can buy Rexall Orderlies only at The Rexall Stores. You can buy Rexall Orderlies in this community only at our store:

The old Fayette House (Bryant's corner) was sold at public auction to A. Hamilton and George Dahl. The new proprietors are going to take off all the buildings at present on the grounds and proceed immediately to erect a splendid brick block of business rooms. The former brick residence of Mr. Ben Bryant, corner of Fayette and East streets was bought by J. A. McLean for $2000.

Corporation elections resulted as follows: Mayor, T. M. Gray; clerk, J. P. Robinson; treasurer, Wm. Robinson; councilmen, H. B. Maynard, J. N. Wilson, J. F. Ely, P. S. Collins and George Dahl; marshal, M. Flynn. There were 9 candidates for marshal.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Some notions exuded by the innocent bystander:

Would it not be a good notion for the city fathers to provide benches or seats for the suffering public so that persons interested sufficiently to leave their homes and attend council meetings could remain throughout the session with some degree of comfort?

Council meetings should be conducted as nearly as possible on the order of the old-time town meetings and providing chairs or seats of some character would be a long stride in that direction.

Would it not be a good notion for the citizens of Washington to organize a body with the functions of a Chamber of Commerce, Business Men's club, Boosters' club or something of like character?

After such organization is perfected would it not be a good notion for it to get busy right quick and bring about the erection of a structure that would be suitable for large public gatherings and an opera house as well?

Would it not be a good notion for the people of this city to wake up to a proper realization of the fact that the Wonder Manufacturing Company has "the makings" of one of the greatest enterprises in this section of the country. With just a little of the right sort of help this institution will cause Washington to grow and develop into a real sure enough city quicker than most anything else.

Would it not be a good notion for everybody to do what he can to boost along the prayer of the petition recently filed with council whereby it is sought to "clean up" the "Point" and convert it into a park or playground?

Would it not be a good notion for the Lecture Course committee to give us "quality" rather than "quantity"? A few lectures by eminent speakers and thinkers rather than a quantity of cheap vaudeville.

THE WRECK OF THE TITANIC

One year ago tonight the Titanic, a new $10,000,000 White Star liner with nearly 2,400 persons aboard, struck an iceberg off the coast of Newfoundland and went to the bottom carrying over 1,600 souls with her. The picture shows the life boats pulling away from the doomed vessel.

(A Memorial Tribute.)

A ship sailed over the ocean,
And rich was her treasure hoard;
Swift like a bird was her motion,
And many the souls on board.

No fear of evil beckoning —
Had they, nor of danger did dream;
And gay was the music and dancing,
While happiness reigned supreme.

But a night came, cold and starry,
A night for many the last;
Twas then befall the horror
And the whole world stood agast!

For a monster that lay in waiting,
As a wild beast waits for its prey;
Struck, with a horrible grating,
When the vessel came in its way.

And the icy teeth 'neath the water
Tore a gash deep and wide in her side;
And soon it was plain they had wrought her
A hurt she could not abide,
O, said the captain of the Titanic
"The women first to the boats!"

And there was no sign of a panic,
Though men's voices were hushed in their throats.

The young, with the bright years before them,
The mature, steeped in life's potent spell;
The old, hid the anguish that tore them,
At parting from those loved so well

Without a complaint or objection,
Without a murmur or sigh;
And bravely concealing dejection,
They staid on the ship to die.

Can chivalry's ancient story
Tell of a deed like this?
Or history's page of glory
Show greater on its list?

And life, is it little for giving—
Life with its beauty and power?
With its splendid joy of living,
With opportunity's priceless dower?

No hymns were softly chanted,
As they sank to their grave in the sea;

But the band, undismayed and un-
daunted,
Played, "Nearer, My God to Thee."

For them were no farewell caresses
Lying hundreds of fathoms deep,
No smoothing the tangled tresses,
Tossed by the waves in their sleep.

Since then baby hands are outstretch-
ing,
That a father's touch never will know;
And baby ways, winsome and fetch-
ing
Call for kisses he cannot bestow.

Oh that dear ones might hear the greeting
Those mute lips once expressed;
Might feel those stilled hearts beat-
ing
'Gainst love's bereaved breast!

Oh world, do not forget them,—
Your splendid, chivalrous sons!
But tribute evermore pay them,
These brave and noble ones!

—Laura M. Gregg.

WEATHER MAN TO SMILE AGAIN

Washington, April 14.—Slightly warmer temperatures, less rainfall and fair weather generally east of the Rockies during the fore part of the week are the predictions of Chief Willis L. Moore, of the Weather Bureau, in his weekly bulletin issued last night.

"The distribution of atmospheric pressure over the northern hemisphere," says the bulletin, "is such as to indicate that temperatures will average near or above the normal the coming week in all parts of the country east of the Rocky mountains and slightly below normal on the Pacific slope. The rainfall during the week will be generally below normal."

"Fair weather will prevail during the next several days over the greater part of the country east of the Rocky mountains, while rains will be frequent during the week in the North Pacific states."

"The next disturbance of importance to cross the country will appear over the far West Monday or Tuesday, cross the Rocky mountains about Wednesday, the great central valleys Thursday or Friday, and the Eastern states near the end of the week; this will be preceded by warm weather, be attended by showers and thunderstorms and be followed by cooler weather, with frosts in the Northwestern states and the Rocky mountains and plateau regions."

The doctor seems to be in disagreement as to the pope's chances of recovery. Dr. Amici is pessimistic, while Professor Marchiafava continues to be optimistic. He persists that the pontiff's condition has not yet become alarming but his statements are generally received with a good deal of skepticism.

The pope's respiration is difficult owing to the cough, the heart action irregular and the pulse rapid.

Rheumatism as a result of kidney trouble, stiff and aching joints, backache, lumbago and sore kidneys, all yield quickly to the healing and curative qualities of Foley Kidney Pills. They regulate urinary irregularities, and restore normal action. John Veltbert, Foster, Calif., says: "I suffered many years with kidney trouble and could never get relief until I tried Foley Kidney Pills which effected a complete cure." OHIO HAPPENINGS

State's Case Concluded.

Columbus, O., April 14.—The state's case will be concluded in the probe of the Columbus Savings and Trust company today, in the opinion of the counsel. How long the defense may require is a matter of speculation, as Barton Griffith has not indicated the number of witnesses he will summon. Colonel W. H. Knauss, H. W. Backhus and Edward Genee concluded for the state.

Mill Wrecked by Flood and Fire. Piqua, O., April 14.—The worsted mill of the Orr Felt and Blanket company was destroyed by fire. The plant had just completed repairs of damages made by the flood, which damaged machinery and destroyed buildings to the amount of $100,000. The loss by fire is estimated at about $300,000. There is said to be $200,000 insurance on the destroyed property.

Railroads Make Progress. Columbus, O., April 14.—As the result of extreme efforts in railroad repairing during last week, the railroad companies are gradually resuming their regular schedules throughout Ohio. Although there has been service on nearly all lines, trains have been far from running regularly, and have been subject to being from one to eight hours late.

Drops to Escape Death; Drowns. Columbus, O., April 14.—Caught on the Hocking Valley bridge when two trains passed each other on the structure, an unknown man who was walking across on the tracks leaped into the Scioto river and was drowned. The police have recovered his hat, a soft, light-hued Stetson, marked with the initials "F. M. J."

FIFTEEN HUNDRED ATTEND

Funeral Services Held Today For the Late Pierpont Morgan.

New York, April 14.—The funeral services for J. P. Morgan were held this morning in St. George's Protestant Episcopal church, of which he was a member for 50 years. The officiating clergyman left the vestry to join in the procession sharply on the hour and the 1,500 ticket holders were in their pews an hour before the services commenced.

Three bishops, the Rt. Rev. Chauncy B. Brewster of Connecticut, Bishop David H. Greer of New York and Bishop William Lawrence of Massachusetts were among the officiating clergymen.

The body of Mr. Morgan was removed from the library without special ceremony at 9:30 o'clock and borne directly to the church in an automobile hearse. The funeral train for Hartford left the Grand Central station at noon.

Will Reclaim

Ruined Park

Chillicothe citizens are now planning to reclaim the ruined Yoctangee park, which some thought could never be restored to its former attractive condition owing to the belief that the railroads intended leaving the levee open so that the water pressure could be equalized on both sides of the road-bed.

Plans are now on foot to restore the park to its former condition, and it is now announced that the levee protection will again be made by the railroad.

The Truth About Starving.

Novelists write a lot of nonsense about the extreme suffering that accompanies starvation. It is all poppycock, says Dillon Wallace, in the Outing Magazine. Any healthy person, with a normal appetite, after missing two or three meals is as hungry as he ever gets. After a while there is a sense of weakness that grows on one, and this increases with the days. Then there comes a desire for a great deal of sleep, a sort of lassitude that is not unpleasant, and this desire becomes more pronounced as the weakness grows. The end is always in sleep.

Those who have especially investigated the subject tell us that, as a general thing, the wild or undomesticated dog never barks in the real sense of that word. Between the wild dog's growl and the explosive bark of the domesticated animal there is a marked difference, a difference that is wholly due to the companionship of man. In a word, the bark is the dog's attempt at imitating human speech, the way he has of "speaking"—in affection to his master or friend—in anger to his enemy.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

SABBATH PASTIME.

Church goers were treated to the delectable sight of a fine little dog being shot by a brave policeman, who had found him in the lobby of the Empire, waiting for his owner, who had let him out of the house on aising, and following soon after found him dead.

The dog has been kept muzzled and guarded, but as bootleggers, thieves, gamblers, etc., are hard to catch, it is easy to create a sensation Sabbath morning by shooting a defenseless dog, the license on which had been paid to the treasurer.

Many people keep a dog for rats, and as a protection from thieves, so the overworked police may be spared, or perchance Towser can hold the thief for several days, to give officers time to arrive on the scene.

The opinion of the general public on yesterday's occurrence was anything but flattering for the man who did the deed.

How we need you, Humane society.

HUNDRED YEAR CLUBS.

Believe Life May Be Prolonged.

Men who are devoting their lives to the study of longevity believe that in days to come a man of ninety will be in his prime, and old age will begin long past a hundred years.

Scientists have proved that the simple life, temperate habits, exercise, and an active mind are essential to a long and happy life.

When the blood gets thin and sluggish and creeps lazily through the veins, and the arteries begin to harden, there is nothing that will enrich the blood, improve the circulation and restore strength to every back-sliding organ in the body so quickly as our delicious cod liver and iron tonic Vinol. Here is proof.

Mrs. Michael Bloom of Lewiston, Pa., at 83 years of age was so weak she had to be wheeled around in an invalid's chair—she writes that after taking a few bottles of Vinol she could take long walks and do her housework. That shows how Vinol strengthens old people.

Try Vinol on our guarantee that it will do you good or cost you nothing. Blackmer & Tanquary, Druggists, Washington C. H., Ohio.

DAUGHTERS OF POSTMASTER GENERAL

The second and third daughters of Postmaster General Burleson, Lucy, aged 18 years (right), and Sidney, aged 16 (left), are attending a girls' college in Virginia, and probably will go thence to the University of Texas, despite their ardent desire to be in Washington while their father is in the cabinet.

NESTS THAT WEIGH TONS.

Those of the Australian Jungle Fowl Are Often 15 Feet in Height.

In Australia are to be found the largest, heaviest and most peculiar nests in the world.

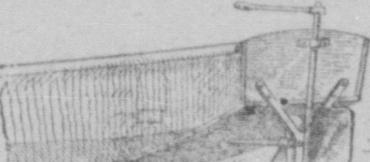

These are the nests of the jungle fowl, so-called, and are built in the form of great mounds, the average measurement in height being 15 feet and the circumference 150 feet. The nests are erected in secluded shelter spots and, as in the case of the small nests of birds, they are skilfully interwoven with leaves, grass and twigs and such other suitable material as the fowl may be able to procure.

A similar system is followed by the bush turkey, whose home is, however, more comprehensive in design. Its shape is pyramidal. It has been asserted by Australian naturalists that the nests of the bush turkeys, which live in colonies, are so large that to move them requires the services of six or seven men. The material of a single nest has been found to weigh upward of five tons.

To Install a Motor in a Small Boat.

By Morris Rader.

Small marine engines can be bought so reasonably now, that many owners of small craft, skiffs and canoes would install an engine were it not for the trouble and expense of putting on a skag and shaft log. An easy way to overcome this difficulty is shown in the diagram. It has been tried by the writer, and is a success.

A shaft bearing is made of iron, in the form of a Y, and fastened to the stern of the boat to support the shaft. A longer piece is fastened to this and to the bottom of the boat to protect the propeller. A projection of this in the rear will carry the rudder. A small shaft log is fitted inside the boat, with the stuffing box on the inside without removing the boat from the water.

MONEY FOR MOTHER FIRST.

Legless Youngster Happy at Thought of Coming $31,000.

New York City.—"What am I going to do with that $31,000 the railroad's got to give me?" laughed 9-year-old Joseph Kmetz, as he hopped about on his wooden props. "Well, I'll tell you what I'm going to do. First, I'm going to buy mother a new silk dress. Then, when I'm old enough I'm going to go to college. After I buy mother that dress I believe I'll get myself a puppy. Gee, I'd like to have a puppy."

Although Joe is legless and has only six-inch stumps to hold the wooden props, he laughs just like other boys, and "gets around." The $31,000 was awarded him by the Federal Circuit Court and the verdict was sustained by the Federal Court of Appeals.

Joe lost his legs two years ago, when he was run down by a New York, New Haven & Hartford train at Bridgeport, Conn.

White House "Baby" Weds.

Washington, D. C.—Miss Marathena Harrison, granddaughter of President Benjamin Harrison, was married here to Harry A. Williams, Jr., of Norfolk, Va. Miss Harrison, who is a daughter of Major and Mrs. Russell B. Harrison was one of the White House babies during the Harrison administration. She made her debut here recently. A company of forty persons, relatives and intimate friends, attended the wedding.

Descendants of David.

The history of the Sassoons is one of the most dramatic in the very dramatic story of the Hebrew race. The original Sasso was a Bombay merchant, but the family is descended from a group known as Ibn Shoshan, who at one time held the position of Nossi of Toledo. The name Shoshan, which signifies "lily" in Hebrew, was gradually transformed into Sasso, signifying "gladness." The family claim Davidic descent, and Abraham Sasso, who flourished in the seventeenth century, stated that he was a direct descendant of Shephatiah, the fifth son of David. Not only are there many references to the name in Hebrew medieval literature, but mention of it is made in the Talmud.

Coal Trains Are Given Preference

All passenger trains on the C. H. & D. railroad were annulled Sunday so that they would not delay the shipment of coal, and train load after train load of coal was sent over the road to Dayton and other points to relieve the fuel famine.

200 cars of coal from Wellston were moved westward, and all sidings along the road were filled with freight cars, so that by annulling the passenger trains and giving the road over entirely to freight traffic the congestion was relieved.

BUFFALO ARE ON THE INCREASE

They Now Number Nearly 3,000 in the Whole of North America

AMERICAN BISON RIGHT NAME

United States Government and Canada Both Making Efforts to Preserve the Herds Which Have Survived Wolves and Civilization.

Washington, D. C.—Buffalo are on the increase in the United States. Of course, they are not buffalo at all, but, strictly speaking, American bison. However, they have been known as buffalo so long that the American Bison society is facing a hopeless task when it tries to have them called by their right name.

The main thing is that they are on the increase. According to the fourth annual report of the society, there are now 2,700 of them in North America. This includes a great herd of 1,000 established in Canada by the Canadian government, largely through the efforts of Earl Grey. This is not the only herd controlled by the Canadian government. There are now twenty-seven head in the Banff, Alta park; sixty-one in the Elk Island park, and a big herd of 918 in what is now known in Canada as the Buffalo park. This is near Wainwright, on the line of the Grand Trunk road. It is an old buffalo grazing ground and there have been fenced in about 100 square miles. This is provided with a good game fence and a frequent strip of plowed land twenty feet wide on each side of the fence.

In addition to the captive buffalo owned by the Canadian government, there is a wild band known as "wood buffalo" north of the Great Slave lake. This herd is estimated at from 300 to 1,000. It has been somewhat decimated by wolves. The Canadian government offered a bounty on the wolves, but the Indians, owing to a tribal superstition, would not kill them, and the government sent a trapper and a biological student into the region to kill off the wolves so far as possible.

The United States government has established a national bison range on the Flathead Indian reservation in Montana and this has increased in the past two years from thirty-seven to fifty-one head. There are now buffalo, either wild or captive, in twenty-seven of the States, and an effort is being made by the Bison society to secure the formation of a State bison range in each one of the States where the animals will thrive.

Mistaken Ideas About Mushrooms. Mushroom time is here. A visit to the pastures and meadows will make this fact clear, and adds to the interest of an article in "Suburban Life" describing the wild mushrooms.

Among other things the author of this article says: "There are some species that cannot easily be mistaken, but the old tests for proving poisonous fungi are not worthy of consideration. Such are: 'If a mushroom exudes milk or changes color when broken it is dangerous.' Look out for a mushroom whose cap will not peel readily. 'A poisonous mushroom will turn silver black.' It is almost impossible to peel the caps of many of the edible species, while the deadly Amanita, the most poisonous mushroom of all, peels very easily. Many of the most delicious species not only exude milk but instantly change color when broken, while many of those that are harmful do neither, and even a raw potato will discolored silver."

Buying Land in Corea. Land buying in Corea is a process which calls for both time and patience. A Japanese investigator who has been making inquiries on the subject has found that the price at which land may be procured differs greatly with the skill of the purchaser. Any hasty attempt to buy hurts the feelings of the owner and creates opposition.

The best plan is to select the district on which one's fancy rests and either settle quietly down there or send an agent to do so instead, letting it be known, in a general sort of way, that one is disposed to buy. Then the Coreans, who class transactions in land in the same category with the sale or purchase of movable chattels—that is to say, as a mere means of procuring or spending money—will of themselves come and offer to sell.

Then, by the exercise of a little patience, a considerable tract may be very cheaply acquired in a few years.

Believe Suffragette Will Not Be Returned To the Jail

London, April 14.—The Women's Social and Political Union does not believe Mrs. Pankhurst will be sent back to jail to serve out her prison term after she recovers from her present indisposition. This would surprise nobody, as it is understood that she is suffering from heart weakness. It is stated that brandy was put in her water during her last day in prison for this reason. The suffragettes again faced hostile crowds at their meetings at Hyde Park, Wimbledon Common and Hempstead Heath.

Thieves Make One Desperate Try To Enter Pawnshop

New York, April 14.—Four Italians were detected tunneling into John Simpson's pawnshop, in the Bowery. The daring methods they used in attacking the solid brick wall, four feet thick, in the back of the pawnshop, resemble in many particulars the recent robbery of the pawnshop of Martin Simons & Sons. The observant eye of a woman and the quick action of the police stopped the thieves just as they had dug their hole through to the pawnshop vault.

Folded Arm Strike Progresses In Peace

BELGIUM TIED UP

General Strike One of the Biggest in World's History.

Brussels, April 14.—Belgium's remarkable strike for a political idea—a strike of folded arms and not of clenched fists, as the Socialists call it—is in full swing today. The Socialist leaders say 300,000 to 400,000 men are idle. There were peaceful demonstrations in many centers of industry.

The strike is in protest against the refusal of the government to grant the workers manhood suffrage. Coal miners, railroad men, glass workers, foundrymen, electricians and dockmen and many other tradesmen are involved.

Frightful Wreck Occurs On Canadian Railroad

COACHES TELESCOPED

Seven Killed and Fifteen Hurt When Train Leaves Track.

Montreal, April 14.—Seven are dead and 15 are injured as a result of an excursion train being derailed on the Montreal-Chambly branch of the Central Vermont railroad, about six miles from Montreal. The train was an excursion run by a real estate firm to view a subdivision. There were 200 passengers aboard. The engine left the rails from some cause, unknown as yet, and the tender, which was in front of the engine, turned bottom up. The fireman was killed. The coaches which followed immediately after the engine were telescoped, and it was in them that six of the passengers were killed and 15 others injured.

Pity About Dick.
A man tells of a dinner he once had at a farmhouse, on which occasion the piece de resistance was literally a very tough chicken. Among those at table were the farmer's two young sons. These, as well as the guests, were struggling unsuccessfully to make some impression on their respective helpings, when the younger boy turned to his companion.

"Som," he said, softly, "somehow I wish old Dick hadn't 'a' died. Don't you?"

Burned to Death by Lard.

Doylestown, Pa.—While Mrs. Jacob Hunsberger was rendering lard at her home, in Hilltown, some of the hot fat spluttered from the kettle and set fire to her dress. Her husband and father tried to smother the flames with rugs and carpets, but were unsuccessful, and could not stop the fire until every stitch of clothing was burned off her. Mrs. Hunsberger died six hours after the accident. She was 52 years old and a member of the Blooming Glen Mennonite Church.

Bush-rangers who held up a favorite Australian official, discovered later the identity of their victim. They returned his horse, with his wallet tied about his neck, and his money and watch inside. Even the Chinese pirates have some honor, a consul reports, and will pay for the hire of vessels which they commandeer for their expeditions.

Sounds Like Voice From Grave After Long Silence

BREAKS 20 YEARS OF SILENCE

Miss Emma Borden Declares Sister Innocent of Father's Murder.

Fall River, Mass., April 14.—Miss Emma Borden broke a silence of 20 years and declared her positive belief in the innocence of her sister, Lizzie Borden, who was tried and acquitted in 1893 of the charge of murdering their father, Andrew J. Borden, and his second wife. Her statement is the first one of public nature that either sister has made regarding one of the most notable murder mysteries in New England. She bases her belief on the fact that the authorities never found the ax or the implement or whatever it was that figured in the killing.

Freshman Charged With Forgery.
Ithaca, N. Y., April 14.—George F. Hughes, 21, of Brooklyn, N. Y., freshman in the college of mechanical engineering, Cornell university, is locked up in the Tompkins county jail charged with forgery in the first degree. He is accused of forging and passing checks to the value of $200.

Teddy Is In Favor Of Proposed Legislation

Albany, N. Y., April 14.—In a letter to F. M. Davenport, chairman of the legislative committee of the Progressive party, which has taken its stand with the Federation of Labor on the workmen's compensation bill controversy, Colonel Roosevelt says: "I heartily agree with you. I most cordially favor the principles of the Murphy-Jackson bill. I hope all Progressives will line up squarely behind it."

Friedmann Sees Surgeon Blue.
Washington, April 14.—Dr. F. F. Friedmann, the young German physician who claims to have a cure for tuberculosis, had his first conference with Surgeon General Robert Blue of the United States health service here. The entire course of Dr. Friedmann's operations in this country were gone over. Dr. Friedmann made no opposition to turn his cure over to the United States government.

The Robins' epitaph.

The two little granddaughters of Dr. S. Weir Mitchell were showing a new governess their treasures of house and garden. Behind a hedge they paused.

"This is the place where our birds are buried," said one of the children.

At the head of a tiny grave was placed a white board. Printed on it in irregular characters, with a lead pencil, were these words:

"Here lie our Robins; one a week old, one only an egg."
